

SOROSIS

TRADE MARK.
THE BEST SHOE FOR WOMEN.

has become so standard an article of dress that an enumeration of its merits is superfluous. For Ladies, there are numerous varieties, embracing every possible need. For morning, visiting and evening dress.

The different leathers used in all these boots, shoes and slippers are of the finest quality, and are selected with a view to their durability and fine appearance.

The Sorosis Slipper.
New designs for evening dress.

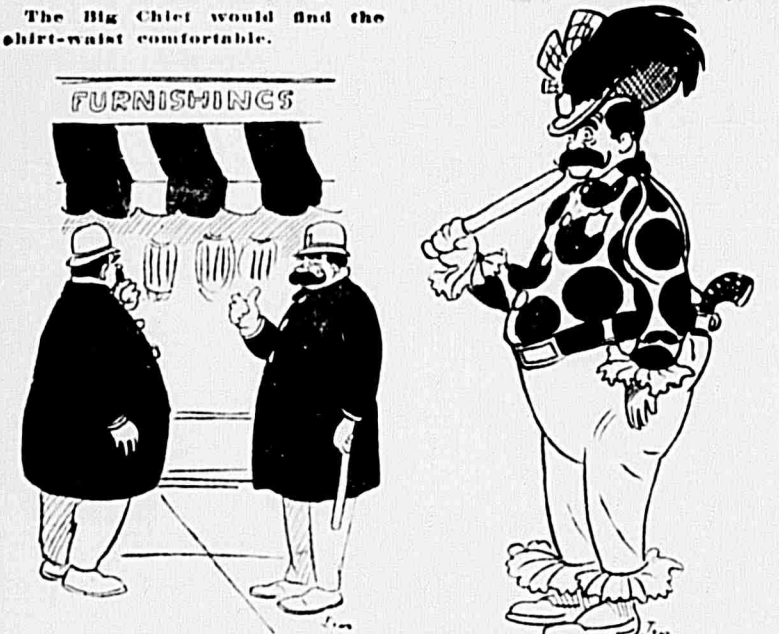

When purchasing Sorosis Shoes, customers should have the foot measured, instead of inquiring for any particular size. By this means an accurate fit is secured.

A Shoe-making section, for Boots, Shoes and Slippers made-to-order, is included in this Department in the Twenty-third Street House. Expert workers, only, employed.

DEPUTY W.S. DEVERY IN A SHIRT WAIST.

Rumor that Camden, N. J., Fashion Will Be Adopted by New York Police.

The latest fashion news from Camden, N. J., says that shirt waists will be worn by men this coming summer season. Mayor Hatch, of that city, has ordered nearly a hundred shirt waists for the police force to wear around in during hot weather.

The shoulder will be cut fashion and made of French blue madras, with loose sleeves down to the elbow and narrowing to the wrist, where they will be fastened with an elastic band.

The bosom will be plaited white linen with brass buttons down the front, and around the neck will be a rolling collar. With the policeman's star on the left breast the waist will be complete. The policeman are said to be pleased with the new costume.

No Suspenders.

The specifications for the outfit say nothing about suspenders, so it is presumed that the responsibility for the trousers will rest on a belt.

This bold move by Camden in favor of the shirt-waist man demonstrates that the question of shirt waists for men is not dead yet.

They say that Chief Devery has subscribed to a Camden home journal in order to note the progress of the fashion.

AIR EXPLOSION WRECKED A CAR

Motor's Fragments Are Hurled Into Houses Near By.

The compressed air cylinder in car No. 1411 of the Twenty-ninth street cross-town line exploded at Twenty-fourth street and Thirtieth avenue today with a report that shook the neighborhood and sent a shower of bolts and scrap iron through the windows of houses in the vicinity.

The car was completely wrecked. Only the conductor and motorman were on it at the time. They were blown into the street, but escaped injury.

Operating the compressed air cars are cylinders filled with air under a pressure of 100 pounds to the square inch. The air is forced into the cylinder by a pump before it is injected into the motor. The steam coil has to be recharged every hour. This is done at the station at Twenty-fourth street and Thirtieth avenue.

The car was standing in front of Ernest Priesemann's German restaurant, at No. 224 West Twenty-fourth street, when it blew up. The cylinder flew into a thousand bits, the motor was demolished, a hole was blown up through the floor of the car and the sides lifted out from the frame work.

The force of the explosion broke every window within a hundred feet. In the restaurant a shower of bolts came through the windows, scattering broken glass over the diners. In the Anchor Hotel a group of loungers narrowly escaped injury from a similar explosion.

One man seated near the stove was scalded by the overturning of the brass evaporator. People ran screaming into the street, thinking an earthquake was upon them.

The company took the motorman and conductor into the car barns and secured them. All information was referred to the police and the press. Sign Newman, who is in charge of the compressed air cars, would give out an explanation of the accident later in the day.

WESTERN MAN RISES.

He was for nine years an officer and director of the American Trust and Savings Bank, of Chicago, and more recently the managing partner of the bank of Davis, Donohoe & Meyer, the bankers of Butte, Mont.

CORNELIUS VANDERBILT PURCHASES A NEW HOME.

Will Remove from Washington Square to Fifth Avenue and Forty-ninth Street.

New Vanderbilt House.

Cornelius Vanderbilt has bought the four-story house No. 80 Fifth avenue, and will move there in May from No. 15 Washington Square, for which he pays an annual rental to Mrs. C. G. Franklin of $8,000.

The new Vanderbilt residence is at the northwest corner of Forty-ninth street and is opposite the Ogden Gould mansion.

It has a frontage of 103 feet on the avenue and 125 feet on the street, and a depth of about 95 feet, leaving a rear yard plot 30x40 feet. Here Mr. Vanderbilt will erect a structure for his automobiles. The land is a Columbia College leasehold.

The house and leasehold were bought at auction in April, 1899, by the late F. O. Matthiessen, the sugar magnate, for $200,000. It was sold to Mr. Vanderbilt by the estate through W. E. & F. B. Taylor.

Mr. Meeker Awoke to Find Her Child a Corpse.

Karl Meeker, three months old, while sleeping with its mother at No. 11 Essex street last night was smothered to death. The babe had been suffering, so its mother said, from a severe cold. She took it to bed with her to keep it warm. When she awoke this morning the child was dead.

FATHER DISAPPEARED AFTER HIS SON'S DEATH.

McAleer Went to Buy Clothes for the Funeral, and Wife
Fears Foul Play.

A general alarm was sent out to-day to the police to look for William McAleer, of No. 69 Lexington avenue, Brooklyn, who disappeared Saturday under such peculiar circumstances that his wife believes he met with foul play.

McAleer's eldest son, twenty-four years old, died Saturday morning. The father told his wife that he was going out to buy a new suit of clothes for the funeral. That was the last seen of him.

The missing man is about 5 feet 3 inches in height, has gray hair and mustache. He worked as a bartender.

Child Orders from Carnegie.

BOTH DUELLISTS MAY DIE.

Probably Mortal Wounds to Each in Jersey City Shooting.

Michael Brosio, twenty-eight years old, No. 24 First street, and Dominic Jorio, thirty-one years old, of No. 25 Third street, Jersey City, fought a duel in Third street this morning.

Both men are lying in the City Hospital.

Brosio and Jorio came from Italy a few years ago and brought with them a feud. They met at 1 o'clock this morning at the head of Third street, where there are vacant lots.

Residents in the neighborhood were startled by hearing a number of revolver shots.

Policemen Lurkey and Burgess found Brosio lying in the hallway of No. 24

First street in a pool of blood. He had been shot in the left breast.

On Third street, not far from the scene of the duel, the police found Jorio, with bullet wounds in his head and his left breast.
